Legal Translations

Lingua Franca provides accurate translation services for law firms

We strive to provide our clients with accurate and affordable translation services.

Our experienced team translates every conceivable type of foreign-language document from quarterly financial reports to “hot document” e-mail threads to complex corporate transactional documents to Swiss statutes to Peruvian court pleadings and everything in between.

Our process

We understand that the volume of materials produced in state-of-the-art business litigation, especially Electronically Stored Information (ESI), makes it impractical to translate every foreign-language document produced by your opponents, especially e-mails, only a small fraction of which are likely to be relevant to the issues presented in the litigation.

We specialize in document translation on a large scale. To reduce transaction costs, Our litigation-experienced language professionals will sit side-by-side with your team to review foreign-language documents; identify and filter critical documents; and manage the project efficiently so that only the most pertinent materials produced in discovery are translated.

Our commitment

We are proud of the professionalism of our in-house translators in Miami, New York, and Washington D.C., as well as our litigation-experienced partners and affiliates in all major world capitals. We are dedicated to providing concierge services to our clients to assure unsurpassed excellence and quality. References of our legal translation expertise are available upon request.

We specialize in legal translation for civil and business litigation, including complex commercial litigation in state and federal courts; consumer class actions; issuer and broker-dealer securities cases; local, state and national administrative and regulatory proceedings; AAA arbitrations; ARIUS reinsurance arbitrations; NASD arbitrations; and Markman patent hearings.

We offer certified legal translations in all major languages, including Spanish, Portuguese, Creole, Swahili, Hebrew, French, Dutch, Chinese, Italian, Korean, Russian, Serbian, German and over 200 languages.

When you should seek professional translation

If you are working with written documents—a contract for your German clients, quarterly financial reports for Brazil, reports filed in Chinese by your new subsidiary in Shanghai that you must read and understand – then you need a professional translator who is qualified and
